

Used Baler & Wrapper

Here is an ideal opportunity to buy a small baler and wrapper that is like new. Owner/operator has used it effectively yet has kept it in perfect condition. Price $15,000 Fob Seattle, WA. Price is about $5,000 below replacement cost at current exchange rates. Current owner is interested in a later version and hence wants to sell this one.

Facts concerning these two machines:

- Always stored indoors.
- Baler has new chains installed last season,
- All maintenance done on a regular basis, i.e. chains cleaned and lubed during harvest as needed, hydraulic fluid changed, no rust.
- Total bales processed now at 2600. Stretch wrap and netting available in the U.S. and Canada, both are recyclable products.
- Bale weight as haylage from 60—85 lbs. depending upon moisture level at the time of baling and wrapping.
- Does excellent hay also.
- Low tractor horse power required.
- One tough and seriously working machine for small farm forage harvest and preservation!
